4Media iPhone Max Crack + Torrent (Activation Code) Download

4Media iPhone Max is a convenient and straightforward iPhone solution especially intended for users who need to backup and transfer movies, images, video files, ringtones, books and contacts. Being designed as a quicker alternative to iTunes, the application enables you to manage and organize your personal files to way you want. Simply connect the iPhone device to your computer and 4Media iPhone Max will automatically recognize it along with the available files. The left panel of the program displays the categories in which corresponding data is stored. After selecting a file, you can easily copy it to your computer or to iTunes. Additionally, from the right-click menu, you can view the selected image or play the current audio / video file, add more folders to your device or simply modify the information for sounds such as artist name, album and artwork. The Contacts section enables you to import details from CSV files, as well as export contacts to vCard files so you can open them with Outlook. What's more, 4Media iPhone Max enables you to connect multiple iPhone devices to your computer and transfer files between them, preview and export photos and videos, read messages and listen to voice memos. The 'Rip DVD/CD' section, located in the bottom pane of the application enables you to rip and convert DVD folders and ISO images to supported formats, then transfer them to your iPhone device. Also, you are able to convert video and audio files and transfer them to your phone with ease. Because the program supports drag and drop, you can add as many files as you want and convert them. To conclude, 4Media iPhone Max proves to be a steady solution when it comes to managing your iPhone content such as messages, voice memos, contacts, photos, playlists and videos, as well as converting your favorite audio and video files to iPhone supported formats.

A feasibility study of anaerobic co-digestion of food waste and municipal solid waste with intermittent aeration as a treatment option for developing countries. Anaerobic co-digestion of food waste (FW) and municipal solid waste (MSW) with intermittent aeration has been studied in this paper. The effects of intermittent aeration on the parameters of anaerobic digestion, microbial community, and microbial activity were determined. The results showed that intermittent aeration improved methane production (MP) by 8.8% as compared to the control group, and addition of FW significantly increased MP by 7.7%. The cumulative methane production was 6.8% higher
