I need to check if a website is published using Facebook API.

When I publish a website using Facebook's website API, the data is stored in the published_at field, which I can use to check if the site is published. But, I need to check if the website is published on Facebook. I searched on Facebook's API to do so, but the only way I found is to check this website's url in Facebook's API. I tried to use the GET request `/v2.1/method/{MethodName}?access_token={Token}` where `{Token}` is the token received by Graph API Explorer. I get the following response: `{ "error": { "message": "The parameter is invalid.", "type": "OAuthException", "code": 100 } }` Where can I find the source code that does the check for this published value? A: You need to use the field `is_published`. `published_at` cannot be used for showing the status for the posted article, while `is_published` can be used for the latest status of posted article. It is also possible to check the value of `is_published` in Graph API Explorer. Macroeconomics A
