Q: How to set a minimum date for a SQL query? I am trying to select records where the column date has the value x but not before the value of y. Currently I have: SELECT * FROM table WHERE date "2019-03-01" but this of course will also pick up records where date is = 2020-03-01. How can I achieve this? A: I think the best way is to use a NOT EXISTS: SELECT * FROM table WHERE date = "2019-03-01" AND date = date '2020-03-01'; I would probably go with the NOT EXISTS way when you have an exact date range like that. A: There are two ways to get around this. The first is to create a range and use between: SELECT * FROM table WHERE date between '
