Civic bodies say a similar carnage caused by Jaganmohan Reddy's Janasena has come to the fore in other parts of the state. June 23, 2018 13:42 IST Telangana. The Bharatiya Janata Party has come a cropper in three Assembly bypolls in the state. But leaders of the ruling Telangana Rashtra Samithi (TRS) are undeterred and say the saffron party would continue to face similar drubbing at the hands of its old rival, the Telugu Desam Party (TDP). Both these parties had once formed the ruling combine in Telangana state after the bifurcation of Andhra Pradesh, which combined the state of Telangana and Andhra Pradesh. In the recently concluded bypolls, the TDP lost three seats while BJP's vote share fell drastically and the alliance lost a seat in all three races. Party sources said the defeat had come as a big blow to the alliance, as it was expecting to win the three seats. While the local body elections were held in two states, with big winners in the southern states, the Assembly bypolls in Telangana and Jharkhand, in which the two parties were polling together, came as a shocker. TDP leaders said the drubbing was caused by the state-wide success of the Telangana Rashtra Samithi, thanks to its chief minister K Chandrasekhar Rao. bff6bb2d33
