NBA Live 19 introduces a revolutionary match engine that incorporates NBA player AI in real-time. The player simulation engine allows NBA players to control their on-court actions, each with a unique personal story, goals and arc, in a seamless and realistic way. In addition, the game integrates more team chemistry in the form of a digital coaching crew. This technology simulates player and team emotions based on the intensity of the player's technical and mental game. The game features a new MyTeam mode, an all-new In-Game Coaching System (IGCS), and a new Power Rankings system. DICE explains the motivation behind the Frostbite Engine and the new Last Light as a Game Modes feature: "Play in a newly designed Sandbox environment with restricted resources. Witness the effects of natural phenomena such as snowfall, raging rivers, lava flows, and ash storms." The new mode also includes nine-minute gameplay, allowing you to play a match in a very short period of time. On a more personal level, the game gives players the option to employ a variety of gameplay scenarios, including: "A 'Duel with Death' mode where one player takes on the role of a legendary warrior battling against a reanimated corpse with a thirst for vengeance. Also, a mode in which you try to outrun the clock in the final minute of a match. A new Balance of Power mode set in either UEFA Champions League or UEFA Europa League by pairing together the best two teams from the previous season's competition. New with the Frostbite API, a mode allowing players to create their own mods in custom matches. And a new event that takes the form of an eSports-inspired fan tournament." From the announcement: "This is a technological marvel in FIFA games, allowing for the first time - thanks to the Frostbite engine - the creation of a truly accurate physics engine. You can feel the weight, density and shape of ball and player in the world, thanks to accurate animations made possible by the thousands of calculations required for each motion. "We are also using facial expressions and gestures. The former by bringing together all the pre-recorded facial expressions of the player models and animating them on top of the existing animations of the player. The latter by having motions that are reflected in the player model's animations, from footwork to the formation of a pass. When a player uses the ball to move up or down in the pitch, you
